Disaster Looms In Viet Nam If Lodge Is Denied

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., said today that unless Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge is given prompt and full support by all American agencies in South Viet Nam "we are face-to-face with a disaster" there.

Mansfield, the Democratic leader, told the Senate that press reports suggest Lodge "is not securing that cooperation."

He said it is not the ambassador's function to beg that cooperation.

"It is his authority to require it in the name of the President of the United States."

Mansfield drew prompt support from Sens. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, the assistant Republican leader, and Frank Carlson, R-Kan., a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Mansfield said that whatever prospects there may be for changes in American policy to relieve the "grave situation" in Viet Nam may well be lost "unless there is an administrative discipline, coupled with a capacity to readjust rapidly to change, among the agencies and officials directly involved in carrying out such policies as may be directed by the President through the secretary of state."

He said if there is any hope of a satisfactory solution in Viet Nam, "it must be pinned in the first instance on the ordering of our own bureaucratic house."

If that requires that "certain individuals must be removed," Mansfield declared, "then the sooner they are removed the better."

Ohio-Soo Freeway Final Section To Be Opened Nov. 1

LANSING (AP)—The final section of the Ohio to Sault Ste. Marie freeway opens to traffic Nov. 1, the Highway Department says.

It will become Michigan's third cross-state superhighway. Others are I 94 from Detroit to the Michigan-Indiana line and I 96 from Detroit to Muskegon.

Opening of the 22-mile stretch between St. Ignace and Sault Ste. Marie will provide an unbroken, 380-mile path of freeway.

Republicans To Present Their Tax Cut Views

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans tell the nation tonight and Saturday their side of the tax story—why they feel Congress should not cut taxes without a brake on spending.

The reply to President Kennedy's radio and television appeal for his $11-billion tax cut program will be launched this evening by Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin.

Byrnes, senior Republican member of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, has pledged to "oppose the tax bill with every ounce of energy at my command" unless the House attaches to it a spending lid amendment he has drafted.

The Conference of House Republicans has endorsed the Byrnes amendment.

On Networks

Byrnes' talk will be carried by the ABC and CBS television and radio networks at 6 p.m. Eastern Standard Time today and by Mutual radio at 6:35 p.m.

Rep. Thomas B. Curtis of Missouri will speak on NBC television and radio at 6 p.m. Saturday. Curtis is senior Republican House member of the Joint Economic Committee and also serves on the Ways and Means Committee.

The networks, which carried on Wednesday Kennedy's appeal for quick passage of the tax bill without limiting amendments, made the equal time available at the request of the Republican National Committee.

Linked To Spending

Byrnes' amendment makes the cut inoperative unless the President submits in January or before budget estimates of spending not exceeding $97 billion for the present fiscal year, which began July 1, and $98 billion for the succeeding year. Both these figures are under the current estimates of spending.

Republicans contend they cannot rely on pledges, such as the one Kennedy renewed Wednesday, to control spending and drive for a balanced budget as soon as possible. They say the restraints must be spelled out in law.

The Democratic majority of the Ways and Means Committee wrote an economy declaration into the House bill and Kennedy endorsed it, but Byrnes dismissed this as a mere pious declaration and evidence of Democratic guilty conscience.

Says Cold War Pause Should Be Used For Amity

By FRANK CORMIER

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — President Kennedy said today the world may have reached "a pause in the cold war." He suggested it be dramatized by a U.S.-Soviet expedition to the moon with the two nations pooling research and experience in space.

In a major foreign policy pronouncement before the United Nations, Kennedy said the negotiation of a limited nuclear test-ban treaty — which he predicted would win "overwhelming endorsement" from the U.S. Senate next week — could prove "the start of a long and fruitful journey" toward peace.

And he said it might be followed by a joint American-Soviet effort to place the first humans on the moon, "not as the representatives of a single nation, but the representatives of all humanity."

In his address prepared for delivery to the 18th General Assembly, Kennedy also called for steps toward disarmament and a broader test ban, abolition of racial and religious discrimination everywhere, and new efforts to strengthen the United Nations as an instrument of international cooperation.

Follows Conciliation

The President's address had been awaited with mounting interest because it followed by one day a generally conciliatory talk to the General Assembly by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

In his only reference to Gromyko's talk, Kennedy said:

"We must continue to seek agreement, encouraged by yesterday's affirmative response to this proposal, by the Soviet foreign minister, on an arrangement to keep weapons of mass destruction out of outer space."

With the reference to Gromyko's speech, which also called for a summit conference on disarmament next year, Kennedy went on to make his dramatic proposal for the joint moon shot.

In space, Kennedy said, both the United States and the Soviet Union have "a special capacity." Furthermore, he argued, both have agreed through the United Nations that they will make no territorial claims in space.

Why Competition?

Having prepared this backdrop, Kennedy said:

"Why, therefore, should man's first flight to the moon be a matter of national competition? Why should the United States and the Soviet Union, in preparing for such expeditions, become involved in immense duplications of research, construction and expenditure?"

"Surely we should explore whether the scientists and astronauts of our two countries—indeed of all the world—cannot work together in the conquest of space, sending some day in this decade to the moon, not the representatives of a single nation, but the representatives of all humanity."

Even though Kennedy said this might become a worldwide project he emphasized the "special capacity" of the United States and the Soviet Union and used the term "a joint expedition to the moon."

There was no doubt that he regarded this as a possible avenue of dramatic cooperation between the two nations.

Basic Differences

"If we can stretch this pause into a period of fruitful cooperation—if both sides can now gain new confidence and true experience in concrete collaboration for peace—if we can now be as bold and farsighted in the control of deadly weapons as we have been in their creation—then surely, this small step can be the start of a long and fruitful journey."

Kennedy said there are basic differences between the United States and the Soviet Union that put a limit on agreements and "forbid the relaxation of vigilance."

No matter, he said, "we need a much better weapon than the H-bomb—a weapon better than ballistic missiles or nuclear submarines—and that better weapon is peaceful cooperation."

The President said he believes both nations and their allies can work out further agreements "which spring from our mutual interest in avoiding mutual destruction."

He ticked off these possible areas of future negotiation:

The prevention of war by accident or miscalculation, safeguards against surprise attack "including observation posts at key points," control over the transfer of nuclear weapons to nonnuclear powers, conversion of the atom to peaceful purposes, a ban on underground nuclear tests "with Farm Surplus Outlet . . .

U. S. Heads Toward Trade With Russia

By OVID A. MARTIN

Associated Press Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States appeared today to be on the threshold of new and more liberal agricultural trade relations with the Soviet bloc.

Whether it will cross the threshold may depend more on the Soviet leaders than American. A friendly gesture in the form of a Communist offer to buy surplus U.S. wheat could bring expanded trade with the Soviet Union and its satellites.

Soviet purchases this week of $500-million worth of Canadian wheat and $90-million worth of Australian wheat has whet the appetite of American producers, traders and some government officials for a piece of the big Iron Curtain market.

Lawmakers from farm states have joined to demand that the United States try to cash in.

Barriers Imaginary

Actually, barriers to sales of U.S. farm products to the Soviet bloc have been more imaginary than real. No laws or regulations ban such sales. In recent years Communist countries have bought a small quantity of some specialty American items, but none of the major crops such as grains, cotton, tobacco, and the like.

A major factor inhibiting U.S. Soviet trade is that this country supports some farm prices above world market levels.

To make these products competitive in international trade, the government has offered subsidies on exports. But the subsidies have been denied shipment to the Soviet Union. Thus Moscow could and did buy more cheaply elsewhere.

But a Soviet offer now to buy American wheat doubtless would bring a change in the government's subsidy policy. Certainly present agitation appears to favor such action and high administration officials have hinted that they favor it.

Advantageous Factors

There are a number of factors which would make expanded trade advantageous to this country.

Sales of U.S. farm products to the Soviet Union for dollars would help improve a troublesome foreign exchange situation. In addition, such sales could reduce grain surpluses which now are weighing heavily on farmers' markets and income, as well as on the Treasury.

There is a danger, though, of expecting too much from improved U.S.-Soviet trade relations.

Trade between the two has never been large. The Soviets are buying wheat abroad now largely because of an emergency situation—a short crop this year. No one knows—not even the Soviets—just how much grain they and their satellites and other dependent areas will need before the 1964 crop is produced and gathered.

One thing sure, it would be a mistake for American farmers to plant more wheat this fall in anticipation of sales behind the iron curtain, U.S. officials say.

Existing surpluses are considered to be more than enough to meet any Soviet orders, should they develop.

Commission To Seek For Peace In Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Mayor Albert Boutwell welcomed today the appointment of a presidential commission seeking racial peace in troubled Birmingham.

But he disagreed sharply with Negro leaders who urged President Kennedy to send troops to maintain order in Birmingham, where the Sunday bombing of a church killed four Negro girls.

Kennedy talked to the Negro leaders at the White House Thursday. Five Birmingham community leaders will meet with Kennedy in Washington Monday.

Boutwell applauded the selection of the former Army football coach, Earl Blaik, and former Secretary of the Army Kenneth C. Royall for the mission to Birmingham, praising them as distinguished and able men devoid of "any stigma of politics or partiality."

"We welcome, as a city and a people, the cooperation of any who are willing to understand our difficulties and be genuinely helpful in their solution," the mayor said.

Royall, 69, an attorney, once was a state senator in North Carolina.

Blaik, 66, is chairman of the executive committee of Avco Corp. He was the coach who built Army into a national football power during World War II.

Shortly before Kennedy announced the appointments, Boutwell told newsmen many of Birmingham's troubles were caused by "outsiders both white and colored" who "have come in here and agitated to the point where they have made our people more tense."

After talking with the Negro leaders, Kennedy urged cooperative efforts to bring to justice the persons responsible for the bombing on Sunday and previous incidents.

Marshall Attorney Securities Officer

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney today announced the appointment of Lenton Sculthorp, a Marshall attorney, as state corporation and securities commissioner, effective Oct. 15.

He will serve a four-year term succeeding Raymond Clevenger, of Sault Ste. Marie, whose term expired today.

Senate confirmation is required for the post, which pays $13,000 a year.

A native of New Jersey, Sculthorp, 47, has been a resident of Michigan since 1929. He attended Dowagiac High School and graduated from the University of Michigan in 1940.

Mother Says She Feels Someone Has Boys Trapped

"I have the feeling that someone has them trapped," said Mrs. Raymond Jensen, mother of one of the two Escanaba boys who have been missing for six days.

"Someone must be holding them or they would be able to get away," she said today. "I can't help but feel that way, because there just hasn't been anything that would make them stay away if they could come home."

"Perhaps someone picked them up, or they are being held in a car, or someplace so they can't get out. This is the way I have felt about it from the first," she added.

Missing since 10 a.m. Sunday when they were last seen by their families are John Jensen, 10, son of the Raymond Jensens of 608 S. 12th St., and Charles Kobasic, 7, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kobasic of 607 S. 13th St.

Torture Of Uncertainty

Raymond Jensen is an Escanaba police officer and the Kobasics operate a grocery. John Jensen is the youngest of five children, and Charles is the eighth among a family of nine sons of the Kobasics.

The passing days with their reports of clues that failed, of hopes raised only to be dashed, and continuing search for the missing boys have been torture for the parents.

Older brothers of the missing boys, both serving in the U.S. Navy, are home to help in the search and to give what solace they can to their parents.

Robert Jensen is on leave from his Navy station in San Diego, and Joseph Kobasic is home from Yuma, Ariz. They have 15-day leaves but may request extensions if it is necessary.

Nothing New

"I thought it would help to have Bobby home, and it has been," said Mrs. Jensen. "But everytime I look at him I begin to cry because he looks so much like John."

Today at the official level where authorities hold out hope for the safe return of the boys by doggedly continuing the search, there were no new leads to follow.

"Nothing," was the reply of Police Chief Harold Finman in re-

Virus Suspected In Retardation

By JOHN BARBOUR

Associated Press Science Writer

WARRENTON, Va. (AP) — A strange, symptom-less virus — so common most people have had it by age 30 — may produce more brain damage and mental retardation in newborns than measles.

It has, at least, according to the findings of researchers at Johns Hopkins University where mothers and their babies have been tested for the virus, said Dr. Robert Cooke, Johns Hopkins pediatrician.

The findings came to light in an interview at the two-day White House conference on mental retardation which ends today.

Furthermore, there is good evidence that the virus—once it has infected an unprotected mother—can invade the baby within her womb and cause brain damage as late as the fifth month of pregnancy, perhaps later.

There is also evidence that the virus is active in producing brain damage not only before birth—but for a few months afterwards, Dr. Cooke said.

Because it produces no symptoms or signs and can live for some time in the salivary glands, it is difficult to detect except in the urine of the infected person or in a check for protective antibodies in the blood.

The virus is called the cytomegalovirus — a big cell virus—so-called because it enlarges infected cells.

Exchange Student To Take Part In Rural Family Life

The Albert Weldum family of Rte. 1, Rock will host a young man from Echallens, Switzerland for three weeks as part of the International Farm Youth Exchange program (IFYE).

Charles L. Besson, 29, will arrive at the Weldum home on Sept. 29 and for 21 days will live as a member of the family absorbing their ways of life, working with them and sharing their experiences.

Besson, the 1963 exchange of the National 4-H Club Foundation under its IFYE program, speaks French and German and understands English if spoken slowly. He holds a degree in agriculture and is a professor of vegetable production.

For a number of years the young man lived on a 60-acre farm where corn, cabbage, potatoes and beets were raised. He is especially interested in youth education. His hobbies include sports, music and photography.

Larry Bradford, Delta County 4-H extension agent, said the IFYE program is designed for a better understanding of ourselves and others. "The exchange is not a guest or hired laborer in the home, but rather is treated as a relative who has come to stay with the family to learn about their lives," said Bradford.

Select Participants

The extension agent said the exchanges are an important link in the development of educational rural youth organizations in many countries, helping to transplant the 4-H idea.

Bradford said that each country selects its own participants. State extension services nominate the U. S. delegates from applications forwarded from county offices. The basic requirements from IFYE are that they be 20-30 years old, single and in good health, have a minimum of high school education, a background in rural life, and experience in 4-H or similar organizations.

"Since the program has been initiated in 1948," he said, "the program has been conducted with

Charles Besson

63 countries, 48 states and Puerto Rico. There have also been 1,419 U. S. delegates and 1,607 foreign exchanges.

According to Bradford, through the appropriate state 4-H channels $1,000 is provided towards the national budget for each two-way exchange, one U. S. delegate sent abroad and one exchange brought to the United States.

He said the IFYE program is privately financed in the United States by nationwide contributions made through the National 4-H Sponsors' Council with the local support of 4-H members, other organizations and groups, local merchants and individuals.

Besson's stay in Delta County is being sponsored by the Kiwanis Club. Delta County has previously had one delegate participate in the program. Dianna Dahlvik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everette Dahlvik of 609 S. 15th St., several years ago went to Chile under the program.

Besson, who will stay in Delta County from Sept. 29 through Oct. 19, comes from a fairly large family. He has four brothers ranging in ages from 17-26 and three sisters between the ages of 15 and 25 years.

Blame Outsiders For Disorders

By KEN SIKER
JACKSON (AP)—Parkside High School principal George Kiesel today marked what he hoped was the end of a midweek upsurge of teen-age and racial street violence in this industrial southern Michigan city.

The police, also, were optimistic that the flurry of mob action, which had racial overtones, was over.

"I think we have it now," said police Sgt. P. G. Rand. "It was the outsiders—the drop-out types who don't go to school and don't get family supervision" who triggered the Wednesday disorders.

A stone-throwing mob of 200 Negro students clashed with police at the school days' end Wednesday, and that night nearly as many Negro adults pelted police cars with pop bottles in front of a liquor store in a Negro neighborhood. In all, 18 were arrested.

In answer to Kiesel's call for self-discipline and teamwork for the good of the new school, students filed home quietly after school Thursday and the city passed a calm evening.

Police were on hand at the school and along the route between the school and the colored section of the city where the Wednesday disorders took place. But their only action was the arrest of seven white youths for carrying concealed weapons.

Officers termed the arrest "precautionary." Two 17-year-olds were lodged in cells for the night and the other five, younger, were turned over to juvenile authorities. Weapons found in their two cars were listed as police-type clubs, iron bars used to reinforce concrete, chains, tire irons, wrenches, and a sawed-off baseball bat with spikes sticking out one end.

When the final bell rang Thursday, Kiesel was in the parking lot, where the mob had formed the day before, accompanied by a dozen white and Negro men.

"They all volunteered to help us through this," said Kiesel. "The group was made up of fathers, Negro leaders and some young Negro men, mostly athletes who are graduates of Jackson High and are now attending Jackson junior college," he said.

Outlook Better For Small Game In Mid-Peninsula

The overall outlook is favorable for the small game hunter this fall in Delta, Marquette and Alger Counties. All small game species appear quite plentiful, with some registering sizeable increases over last season, reports Joseph Vogt, Escanaba District game supervisor.

As of Oct. 1, the following will be legal game:

Cottontail rabbits and snowshoe hares — Cottontails continue common about the cities of Escanaba, Rapid River and Gladstone; field officers report a sizeable increase in snowshoe hares in most zones. "The followers of hounds can expect good sport this winter," Vogt said. "Snowshoes could withstand a much heavier harvest than they presently receive. Much excellent habitat is seldom penetrated by hunters."

The gray squirrel population is scattered, few are sought by hunters, although there are more than last season.

More Partridge

"The pheasant hunter must expect to work hard for a chance at a Delta County cock pheasant," Vogt said. "The spring census of crowing cock pheasants confirmed a scattered population of ring-necks in the Bark River-Flat Rock area."

Sharptailed grouse showed the best population index in three years, with a good response of sharptails to management practices of cutting, burning and spraying, Vogt said. Some new or reactivated sharptail dancing grounds were noted last spring.

"A good bet for opening day would be the Dunklee's or Limestone areas in Alger County," said Vogt. "Other good locations are Birch Farm, Delta County, and Little West, Northwoods burn, and South Ishpeming, Marquette County."

It looks like a peak year for ruffed grouse in the Escanaba district, where spring drumming counts were up 23 per cent over last year. Field observations during June and July gave the best brood count since the earliest survey records. Reports from the public confirm a high population, the Conservation Department reports.

Many Woodcock

"This is another game bird which can support a much heavier harvest," Vogt said. "Hunters are invited to leave their cars and the roadsides and beat the brush. They should find good numbers of 'pats'."

An excellent population of woodcock is indicated again this year and the U. S. Fish and Wildlife is allowing an extra bird in the game bag this year. Michigan leads the U. S. in the harvest of woodcock.

The outlook on other species includes a plentiful supply of raccoon (there were many reports from farmers on damage caused by the animals); and bears continue to be plentiful throughout the Upper Peninsula. Bear stamp sales are up over last year in the district.

Bobcats might well be promoted from the "vermin" to the "game" class, because of the sport it furnishes in front of a good pack of hounds. The number of bobcats bountied continues high.

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP)—President Tito of Yugoslavia, who's trying to drum up new business in Latin America for his Communist country, met briefly with President Joao Goulart of Brazil.

Seek New Bids On Alger Jail

MUNISING—As the result of a meeting held in Chicago between Alger County officials and representatives of the Community Facilities Administration, the county must advertise for bids for construction of a new jail and sheriff's quarters.

Bids were sent out Wednesday. The deadline is at 2 p. m. Friday, Oct. 4. The first bids on the project were opened July 23 and amounted to $192,261.62, which was $32,261.61 more than the available funds. The amount allotted for this project was $160,000, obtained through a federal grant of $80,000 and matching funds procured by a special one-mill tax levy for a five year period.

The figure was reduced by the board of supervisors at recent meetings, but members were informed this week by the federal agency that new bids must be taken.

U. P. Disc Jockeys Fined On Charge Of Contributing

ISHPEMING—Four WJAN radio station disc jockeys were assessed a total of $219.60 in fines and costs and two of them were issued five-day sentences when they appeared before Justice George J. Fezzey in Marquette Township court.

The four—Jay Kesitalo, 19, of Route 1, Ishpeming; Bruce A. Tambellini, 20, of 822 Croix St., Negaunee; Edward Stima, 22, and Richard E. Snell, 18, both of Rte. 1, Champion—were arrested by state police Sept. 2 at the studios of WJAN in Ely Township for contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Each was fined $50 and ordered to pay court costs of $4.90. The alternative sentence was 10 days in the county jail.

Kesitalo and Stima also were ordered to spend five days in jail as part of their sentence.

Grand Rapids To Immunize Saturday

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Arrival of another planeload of oral polio vaccine Thursday boosted the stockpile here to enough dosages for 450,000 persons.

The vaccine will be used Saturday in a community-wide immunization against paralytic polio.

The scheduled immunization followed disclosure that four paralytic polio cases had been discovered since Aug. 21. The oral vaccine will be administered at more than 70 stations in Grand Rapids and Kent County.

Catholic Critic Tempers Charges

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

Paul Blanshard, long-time hurler of thunderbolts against Roman Catholic policies, today finds cause for tempering his criticisms with commendations.

He sees harbingers of change on the horizon.

"There are signs that the Roman Catholic Church is shifting toward a belief in real religious liberty," he said. "It seems to be moving toward a commitment to freedom."

This contrasts considerably with past appraisals in which Blanshard has pictured the church's traditional positions as contrary to democratic principles.

"There are hopeful elements of a progressive trend in the church," he said. "There is a new attitude of personal cordiality which is much better than the petty, old hostilities."

Harmful Tensions

In Blanshard's view, the church still needs to make many readjustments, to implement specifically the newly developing outlook, and he foresees harmful tensions in Catholic demands for tax aid to parochial schools.

Blanshard, a lawyer, author and one-time public official, was on his way to Rome this week, to take in the second session of the Vatican Ecumenical Council, opening Sept. 29. The first session last year loosed new currents in the church.

At 71, he is an alert, relaxed man, as courtly as his trim mustache and tweedy suit, and as personally genial in manner as he often has been slashing in his thrusts at Catholicism.

A new book by Blanshard, "Religion and the Schools," is being published by Beacon Press Oct. 2, and compared to some of his previous works, such as the controversial "American Freedom and Catholic Power," he says: "I've tried harder to be objective. It's fully as critical of Protestants as Catholics. If there is any hero of the book, it is the U. S. Supreme Court."

Prejudice Vs. Catholics

He traces a history of glaring discrimination against Catholics through Protestant-oriented public school observances, of anti-Roman history books, and of Catholic children sometimes expelled, even flogged, in the last century.

In the past approach to separation of church and state, he told this interviewer, Protestants have been "more frequent violators" than Catholics in using the schools—an arm of the state—to promote their religion.

On the other hand, Blanshard, with characteristic bluntness, assails efforts of Catholic leaders to secure government funds for church schools. "They want to change the whole tax system," he asserted.

A native of Ohio, Blanshard was once a New York City rackets investigator, a Congressional minister, magazine editor, and World War II State Department aide. He has turned out a series of books on church-state issues. He and his wife, Julia, now live on a 100-acre Thetford Center, Vt., farm.

Indonesia Mends Ties With Britain

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Indonesia strove today to mend frayed relations with Britain, checking further demonstrations and announcing that it will protect foreign properties from seizure.

Government-controlled news and radio agencies said President Sukarno specifically barred the takeover of British companies without his approval.

The assurance appeared to meet a British demand that Sukarno spell out what he intends to do about British properties seized by Indonesian workers in the wave of anti-British sentiment following the creation of Malaysia.

Mecosta Banker Charged In Loss

BIG RAPIDS (AP)—A warrant charging embezzlement of about $10,000 was issued Wednesday against Theo Roe Jr., Mecosta branch bank manager who was reported missing Tuesday.

Mecosta County Prosecutor William A. Harper said the warrant was issued after a shortage was discovered at the Mecosta branch of the Citizens State Bank of Big Rapids.

Bank President Wallace Henry said approximately $5,000 was missing from a cash drawer and another $5,000 from the bank vault. Harper said the funds were taken from July 1 to Sept. 17.

All Year Ship Use Study OK'd

WASHINGTON (AP)—A senate-passed bill to authorize a study to determine whether a way can be found to keep the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence Seaway open to navigation during the entire year is backed by the Army Engineers.

Frank Snyder of the Engineers' Civil Works Division told a house Public Works subcommittee Thursday that from a technical standpoint there have been sufficient developments to make such an investigation worthwhile.

Snyder said such a study would cost $50,000 or more. He said the Army has no objection to making the investigation, but he read a letter from the Budget Bureau opposing it. The Budget Bureau takes the position it knows of no technical advances that would make it feasible.

Flood Battle In Texas Nears End

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—While volunteers kept on sandbagging weak spots in a threatened levee, a battle to prevent further flood damage near here appeared to be nearly at an end today.

There still was high water from torrential rains which followed hurricane Cindy. Engineers said the forward flow and menacing rise had about stopped, however, at an eight-foot dike protecting suburban Port Acres.

Neighboring Orange County asked to be declared a disaster area. This echoed a plea made the day before by the Civil Defense Council for Jefferson County, in which the largest cities are Beaumont and Port Arthur.

Duck Prospects Improved Here, Hunters Advised

Duck hunters who did not disgustedly sell their guns and decoys as a result of last year's highly restrictive legislation will be pleased with a more liberal season this year, reports Joseph E. Vogt, game supervisor of the Conservation Department's Escanaba District.

Season length is stretched from noon Oct. 5-Nov. 8 for ducks, with the goose season open Oct. 5-Dec. 13.

Daily bag limit for ducks is increased to 4, including not more than 2 mallards or 2 black ducks, singly or in aggregate; 2 wood ducks; 1 hooded merganser, Canvasbacks and redheads are protected as last year.

Local Ducks Good

Daily bag limit for geese remains at 5 including not more than 2 Canada geese, or 2 white-fronted geese, or 1 of each.

For further information on regulations, see the Game Law Digest or your local conservation officer.

The Canadian drouth seems finally to be breaking. Surveys in the provinces show the best production in the last 4 years. Canvasbacks and redheads remain in short supply, however.

In Michigan we enjoyed the best production of local ducks in many years. This was despite a dry spring and low water levels.

In District No. 3 (Delta, Marquette and west half Alger Counties), similar good catches occurred. Portage Marsh brood surveys indicated the best brood counts since such counts were initiated in 1954.

Hope For Nesters

Since early September, many hundreds of ducks and a few geese have been frequenting the Portage Marsh—Little Bay de Noc area. Baldpates are the most numerous species, but mallards, black ducks, teal, pintails and wood ducks are also numerous. Many locally-hatched blue-winged teal have already departed for southern climes, but additional northern migrants will be dropping in as the weather cools.

It is hoped that the 100 pools constructed about Portage Marsh will cause more ducks to stay in the locality well into the duck season. We trust some ducks will "sign a lease" for occupancy during next spring's nesting season.

More signs of duck blind construction are seen than were apparent last year at this time. Another flurry of activity is expected just prior to the opening hour which is noon, Oct. 5.

Rooms Sought

Residents of Escanaba who have rooms available for the MEA (teachers) convention Thursday October 10, have been requested to call the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, ST6-2192, the Housing Committee said today.

The same disappointing failure that has marked past searches of Escanaba's waterfront for missing John Jensen and Charles Kobasic attended the latest effort by skin divers on Thursday. State Police Troopers Hugh Fish and Robert Barr are in the water with (from left) Escanaba Policemen Richard Frederick and Ray Possi on shore. No trace was found of the missing boys.

Leaving the water after another fruitless search for John Jensen and Charles Kobasic, missing since Sunday, State Police skin divers Fish and Barr are assisted over the rocks by (left) Escanaba Patrolman Laurence Johnson and (right) Trooper Carlton Patterson. (Daily Press Photos)

Anthony To Head Escanaba Chamber

John Anthony was elected president of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce at an organization meeting of directors held at the Chamber Building Thursday afternoon.

Other officers elected who will serve with Anthony during the new fiscal year starting Oct. 1 are John J. Mitchell, first vice president; Forrest Henslee, second vice president; and Arne Maki, treasurer.

Directors passed a resolution commending retiring President Jack C. Berg, other officers and retiring board members for their fine record of achievement during the past year.

Anthony is a native of Escanaba, president of Anthony & Co., and Andex Industries, Inc. He is a graduate of Escanaba High School, Class of 1933, and is an alumnus of Michigan Tech and Northern Michigan College. He served in the Navy in World War II after association with General Electric Co., at Detroit and with his late father, Willis J. Anthony, founded Anthony & Co., in 1946. It manufactures advertising specialties for sale throughout the nation.

Mrs. Anthony is the former Dorothy Lowin of Binghamton, N. Y. They have four children.

Anthony is a past president of the Escanaba Rotary Club and has served as vice president of the Chamber. He is a director of the First National Bank of Escanaba.

Goldwater Will Oppose Treaty, But It'll Pass

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater says he will vote against ratification of the limited nuclear test-ban treaty, even if it costs him his political career.

The Arizona Republican, considered a contender for presidential nomination in 1964, told the Senate Thursday he had been warned that "to vote against this treaty is to commit political suicide."

But, he declared, "I will vote against this treaty because in my heart, mind, soul and conscience, I feel it detrimental to the strength of my country."

His speech capped another lengthy day of debate on the treaty in which the time was used mostly by opponents.

Nevertheless, when the vote is taken next Tuesday, ratification seems assured. Eighty-one senators have announced for the treaty or are leaning that way, with only 14 definitely opposed. Ratification requires a two-thirds majority—67 votes if all 100 senators vote.

Briefly Told

Escanaba Area PTA Council will meet Monday, Sept. 23 at 8 p. m., at the John Lemmer School.

John A. Baribeau, manager of the Escanaba Steam Laundry, attended the Wisconsin State Laundrymen's Association sectional meeting held Thursday, Sept. 19, at Marinette. Guest speaker was Attorney General of Wisconsin, George Thompson.

Designated a lake closed to fishing is Trout Lake, Sec. 6, T44N, R 20 W, Alger County, described by the Conservation Department as a lake closed to all fishing as of Sept. 8.

In Service

Pvt. Dennis Clark, son of Mrs. Stanley Srock, 219 S. 18th St., who has been hospitalized in Nuremberg, Germany, suffering from a rare eye disease, has recovered and has been released from the hospital.

Yale Cancels 'Bama Governor

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Yale University has firmly shut its gate to segregationist George Wallace, governor of Alabama.

Wallace had accepted an invitation to speak before the Political Union, a student debating society, Nov. 4. The society withdrew the invitation Thursday after Yale's acting president, Kingman Brewster Jr., argued against it.

Brewster, university provost, said in a statement he asked the students to consider the impact the invitation would have on relations between Yale and the city of New Haven and its Negro population. He said he was grateful for the cancellation.

Wallace had no comment.

Bible League Illustrated Talk At Calvary Church

The Rev. Perry Temple will present the work of the Bible Meditation League Sunday, Sept. 22, at 7:30 p. m., at Calvary Baptist Church in Escanaba.

Rev. Perry will show a recent set of colored pictures with taped commentary and musical background received from the Bible Meditation ministry in Hong Kong, Thailand and India. Some of the pictures will include, escape route out of China, giant golden Buddhas, burning ghats, poisonous cobra pits and Communist meetings.

The Bible Meditation league is engaged in the distribution of Gospel literature and Bibles.

The public is invited to attend this service.

Story Time At Library Saturday

Story Time will be held at 10 a. m., Saturday in the Children's Room of Carnegie Public Library for boys and girls three and above. The stories will be "Junior's Restless Day"—when is a trade not a trade? "Cubby and the Birthday Present"—an apple isn't a pear, and "The House on East 88th Street"—a crocodile becomes a house guest.

U.P. Convention Of TOPS Clubs In Escanaba

Escanaba's Wait Watchers TOPS Club will be hostess to over 160 women with a weight problem at the Upper Michigan Area Recognition Day Saturday, Sept. 28. The convention will be held at Mar-co's Starlite Room. Thirteen of the 15 clubs in the area have registered to date.

Registration will begin at 10 a. m. and luncheon at noon will be followed by a program.

The convention committee is Marbey Petrie, chairman, Elaine Phalen, assisting chairman, Joan Ferguson, Jean Brandt and Merle Schroeder. Leader of Wait Watchers Club is Esther Beauchamp.

Program Parade
This Recognition Day is to honor the best loser from Jan. 1 to Sept. 21, 1963. At the leaders' meeting at 10:30 a. m. plans will be made to make this an annual affair, which will be held in the spring and will honor the person losing the most weight during the year.

The program will feature a "Large Dress Parade" for members losing 30 pounds or more, and a graduation of KOPS (Keep off pounds sensibly). These members have attained their goal and are now trying to keep their weight near this goal. The best loser of each club will be introduced by the leader. The best loser in the Teen Division also will be recognized.

Area supervisor, Violet Miller of Menasha will be present to honor the best loser of Upper Michigan. She will also conduct a "question and answer" session.

With Our Women

LaVerne M. Douck, 1119 6th Ave. S., another of Escanaba's successful home-makers and career women, describes her position as secretary to Richard L. Rinehart, president of Bay de Noc Community College, but that, it was learned from her immediate superior, is not a sufficiently descriptive title.

Mrs. Douck, as acting Dean of Students, serves to locate and check rooming for non-local students. She advises students on personal problems, acts as receptionist for the college, as hostess for visitors and faculty applicants and as confidante for the institution's president, in college policies.

The former LaVerne McCarthy, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. McCarthy, 322 1st Ave. S., and she was born in Marquette. She was graduated from St. Joseph's High School in Escanaba and spent one year in a secretarial school study. She was active in cohorus work during her school years.

Her marriage to Carroll F. Douck of Escanaba took place Sept. 16, 1939, in St. Paul. Their family includes Mrs. Robert (Carla) Ferguson, St. Clair Shores, Carole, Patrick, Mary Lynn, Stephen, Christine, Pamela and Jeffrey, at home, and James, a student at Northern Michigan University.

Mrs. Douck, before her present position, was employed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Michigan State Library, the Department of Social Welfare and the U. P. Child Guidance Clinic.

She is a member of St. Joseph's parish. She enjoys, as hobbies, vocal work and knitting—and, in particular, knowing people and remembering names as well as faces.

Edith Lawrie School Of Dance Reopens Monday

The Edith Lawrie School of Dance will resume classes Monday, Sept. 23, ending the summer recess period.

Instruction will be given in all types of dancing, acrobatics and baton twirling, privately, or in small classes, to assure the most rapid progress for each pupil. There is no age limit.

Edith Lawrie Ray, who is temporarily residing in California, has been teaching dancing at a private professional school in Hollywood. She expects to return to Escanaba in the near future and at that time will enlarge the school to include Theatre Arts, which she is studying at the present time.

Mrs. Ray, a member and former director of the Chicago National Association of Dance Masters, and the Dance Masters of California, is an experienced public school teacher as well as a dance teacher. She has operated dance schools in Houghton, Calumet, Iron Mountain and Iron River. Some of her former pupils have danced professionally and some operate their own schools.

Mrs. Sharon Edwards, director of the school last year, will direct the school until Mrs. Ray's return. She has been an assistant in the Lawrie School for a number of years and also operated her own school in Sheboygan. She has attended Dance Masters sessions in Chicago and Flint a number of times and soon will become a teaching member of the Chicago National Association.

Elks Auxiliary Opening Dinner Thursday Night

The Elks Ladies Auxiliary will hold its opening membership dinner Thursday, Sept. 26, at 6:30 p. m. in the Elks Club lounge.

Wives of all Elks members are welcome to join the Auxiliary and to attend the opening dinner.

Bernice Robinson, president, and her officers are making arrangements for the dinner, which will be followed by a discussion of the year's activities and a card social.

Reservations may be made by calling the club, ST6-2294, not later than 6 p. m. Tuesday, Sept. 24.

Personals

The Rev. and Mrs. J. Bruce Brown are accompanying their son, Stephen, to East Lansing where he will begin his freshman year at Michigan State University. Stephen has a General Motors scholarship and also a scholarship from Escanaba Senior High School. Mr. Brown, pastor of First Methodist Church, and his wife, will visit members of their families in Lower Michigan before returning to Escanaba.

B. & P. W. Club Meeting Tuesday

Escanaba Business & Professional Women's Club will have a regular dinner meeting Tuesday at 6:45 p. m. at the Sherman Hotel. The officers will be in charge of the meeting. Members are asked to make reservations with Jean Kasun, ST6-2242.

Specialists In Church Robbery Given Pen Terms

PORT HURON (AP) — A pair of men who said they specialized in robbing church poor boxes face 10-15 years in prison.

Claude Shepard, 33, of Troy, and Robert L. Neaher, 27, of Royal Oak, were sentenced Wednesday after they pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking and entering St. John's Roman Catholic Church in Allenton, Mich., Aug. 14.

Following their arrest the two, both ex-convicts, told police they had taken money from poor boxes in churches throughout Ohio, Michigan and Indiana.

Police said the loot ranged from pennies to $800.

Shepard and Neaher said one man would call the rector of the church on a fake errand of mercy and the second bandit would then rob the poor box.

City 4-H Group Elects Officers

The City 4-H Club meeting in the Youth Center, elected Jennifer Patz, president, David Vaughan, vice president, Arlene Jetty, program chairman, Sandy Wood, secretary, Wendy Saffer, treasurer and Mary Ellen Cameron, reporter. Jacquie Anderson, who leaves for college this week, assisted.

Plans are to meet the first Tuesday of each month with dues set at 10 cents a month. There were 63 boys and girls enrolled. Projects are knitting, sewing, cooking, handcraft (wood and leather), electrical, conservation and photography. Mrs. Norman Patz, adviser, says leaders are urgently needed. Anyone willing to assist may call her at 341-5226. The Oct. 29 meeting will have a Halloween theme and business will include "project clubs." Mothers of officers will be hostesses. All parents are welcome.

Personals

Mrs. Fred Nelson of Pismo Beach, Calif., arrived for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Cal Steven and Mrs. Ada Watson and other relatives. Mrs. Nelson is a sister of Mrs. Watson and Mrs. Steven.

Miss Lydia Strom has returned after a month in Green Bay where she had eye surgery at Bellin Memorial Hospital.

Elks Fall U.P. Roundup Opening

Manistique will be host today and Saturday for the 26th annual U. P. Fall Elks Roundup with an estimated 300 persons attending.

Registration is scheduled today, starting at 1 p. m., and Saturday, beginning at 9 a. m. The agenda includes district deputy clinics at 1:45 p. m., Saturday and a ritual clinic at 2:30 p. m., Saturday. The first business session is 10 a. m., Saturday.

A highlight will be the convention banquet at 7 p. m., Saturday in the Elks Club. John W. Kelly will be toastmaster, invocation will be by Clyde Strasser and welcome by Ted Hentschell, exalted ruler, here.

Speakers will be Carl Fernstrom of Menominee, state president; Clyde Mitchell of Ishpeming, president of the U. P. Elks Association; Hugh Hartley of Osoyoos, chairman of the major projects commission and Robert A. Burns, of Bossener, grand inner guard just elected at the national convention in San Francisco.

A bowling tournament, fish fry and midnight smorgasbord are among events today. Saturday at 1 p. m., a men's luncheon is planned in the Elks Club and a women's luncheon at Arrowhead Inn.

Guests will include Milt McKay of Albion, vice president of the Michigan Elks Association and district deputies Calvin Bjorne of Ishpeming and Fletcher E. Fregotto of Escanaba.

The Manistique Elks Lodge has had three district governors: O. J. Schuster, 1939-40; John W. Kelly, 1950-51 and Fred Hahne, 1959-60.

The total earnings were $62,349.50 for the 832,733 acres in the forest. Schoolcraft has 121,326 acres.

Twenty-five per cent of the money or $2,274.77 goes to the Road Commission and school districts with land in the forest will receive 75 per cent of it. They are Inwood, $3,412.15; Hiawatha, $1,637.82 and Thompson, $1,774.32.

A fine of $10 and costs of $430 were assessed William B. Roberts, 17, of N Houghton Ave., for trespass. Alternative is 10 days in jail. The charge stemmed from damage by Roberts and others to the Herb Krause garden. He also was placed on 90 day probation and given a 5-day jail term for violation of probation imposed in June.

Births
Mr. and Mrs. William Burton of Germfask are the parents of a 7 pound, 8 1/2 ounce daughter born Sept. 18 in Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Burton is the former Marilyn Landwehr.

Quigley Death Cause Is Fixed

A coroner's jury of six Thursday afternoon found that John James Quigley, 23, of Manistique, died Sept. 2 of injuries received when he was thrown from a car he was driving, when it hit guardrails, that death was instantaneous and that no person or persons contributed to his death.

The jury deliberated 15 minutes after hearing testimony of four airmen from Kincheloe AFB who went by the accident scene on U. S. 2 near the west Manistique city limits.

Testifying were Terry J. Hoffert, 21, driver of the car which ran over Quigley's body on the highway, Kenneth McIntosh, John J. Kasperick and Michael Flaherty, also of Kincheloe.

The four were returning from Green Bay to Kincheloe Sept. 2. Hoffert said he did not see the body in time to avoid it, as he came around a curve. It was dark and it had been raining.

The inquest by Coroner Robert Broullire had been continued from Sept. 13 to Thursday as subpoenas were delayed in reaching the airmen through the mail.

Testifying Sept. 13 were Ralph Gauthier, owner of the car Quigley was driving, John Schuetter, ambulance driver, and Leon Juenger, state police trooper.

An autopsy report by Dr. Guy Holmes of Marinette showed that death was caused by the stomach lodging in the lungs, causing instant death, along with hemorrhage, from the impact, W. J. Sheahan, prosecuting attorney noted at the inquest.

The jury members were Mrs. Don McNally, Mrs. Raymond Schmidt, Mrs. Eldon Norton, Mrs. Arthur Cockram, William Reber and David Road.

The verdict stated: "Death was caused by injuries received when he was thrown to the pavement when the car he was driving, which he had taken without permission, left the highway and struck some guardrails."

Robert Ferguson, Michigan Education Association field representative to the Upper Peninsula, will be the speaker.

Ann Landers

Proud Parents

Dear Ann Landers: There is a certain couple in our crowd who bores everyone to death with endless reports of what their children are saying and doing. They have two kids who are bright and attractive but the rest of us have kids of whom we are pretty proud too.

The mother carries the girl's themes in her purse and reads them at bridge luncheons. The father always "just happens" to have a letter in his pocket from the boy which was written when he was away at camp. They both carry pictures, dozens of them—and I have seen the same batch of pictures three times. They forget who has seen and heard what, and I for one, am mighty tired of the whole routine.

These parents are not stupid, yet they are not even remotely aware that they are boring their friends to death. Any suggestions?—CAULIFLOWER EARS

Dear Ears: Isn't it awful when people won't stop bragging about their kids long enough to give us a chance to brag about ours? I know the type and they are insufferable.

There is no way to turn off proud parents. You may as well try to turn off the sun. If you just happen to have a couple of hundred pictures of your own kids handy it could break up the monotony.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 18 years old and training to be a nurse. I feel that I know my way around pretty well because I've been dating since I was 12 and have always been considered mature for my age.

Three months ago I began to take stock of myself. I counted 17 fellows I have actually gone out steady with and there have been at least 20 others whom I dated two or three times. All I have to show for my popularity is a few beat-up rings, some cheap bracelets, dozens of pictures and a big stack of letters.

Six weeks ago I met an intern who is a real doll. He has been dating other nurses but I think he likes me best. The problem is I can't get any kind of commitment out of him. He won't go steady and he refuses to discuss anything permanent. He says he is stone broke and can't think seriously about any girl at this time. How can I nail him?—EVE

Dear Eve: I wouldn't say an 18-year-old girl is exactly a candidate for the Old Folks Home. Why should you want to nail anybody?

Just because you've dated a small battalion of guys doesn't mean you're mature. It only means you've been busy.

You have chosen an excellent field for service and for meeting people. I suggest you put on the brakes and forget about marriage for a couple of years.

Dear Ann Landers: I read your views on giving boys a permanent wave and I do not agree that it is a bum idea. Listen to MY story and you'll understand why.

When my son was 11 years of age I decided his hair would look much nicer curly instead of straight as a stick. So I gave him a permanent. From then on his hair was wavy and beautiful. All it needed was a little coaxing.

To this day (eight years later) my son has the prettiest wavy hair a person could wish for. Now, aren't you sorry you told that young fellow to leave his hair alone?—DAILY READER

Dear Daily: No, I am not sorry, and the advice stands. As for your son's hair remaining permanently curly after the permanent you gave him eight years ago, there is no scientific reason for it. Hair grows out of the scalp either curly or straight. If your theory added up, one permanent would be all anyone would need.

To learn the difference between a marriage that "settles down" and one that "gets dull," send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "What To Expect From Marriage," enclosing with your re-

Numbers Of Beef Cattle Building

JOHN FERRIS
Michigan State University

Rising population and somewhat higher consumer incomes will enlarge the demand for meat in 1964. Poultry meat will capture part of this expansion in demand. Larger supplies of beef, slightly smaller supplies of pork and lamb are in prospect. Cattle prices will be steady to lower, hog prices will be steady to higher and lamb prices somewhat higher in 1964 than in 1963.

Cattle numbers have been building since 1958, but at a slower rate than in most previous cattle cycles. The buildup has been in beef cattle numbers as dairy cattle continue to decline. A feature of the present cycle has been the high volume of cattle feeding which has had both a stabilizing and an unstabilizing effect on the cattle market. Cattle feeding stepped up quickly as cow slaughter dropped in 1958, which kept cattle prices from skyrocketing. Unrealistic prices might have encouraged an overexpansion. Secondly, feed lot operators have been bidding heifers away from breeding herds and this has kept the expansion within bounds.

On the other hand, the large volume of cattle being fed has introduced some short term variability. Cattle feeders have substantial control over the short term changes in beef production by decisions on when to market and how heavy to carry their cattle. Rapid changes in the flow to market and slaughter weights coupled with some rigidities in pricing at retail have caused abrupt swings in fed cattle prices.

In spite of the short term instability, average annual prices have been well maintained in this cycle. Prices on choice steers at Detroit declined only from $28.50 in 1959 to about $25 in 1963. Favorable prices and promising range conditions in 1962 accelerated the buildup in U. S. beef cattle numbers. On Jan. 1, 1963, beef cow numbers were up 6 per cent; beef heifers were up 8 per cent; and beef calves increased 5 per cent over the year before. This indicates that the beef industry is gearing up to expand steer and heifer slaughter by about 5 per cent per year over the next two or three years. Our growing economy can easily handle a 3 per cent increase per year at steady prices. Increase of 5 per cent, however, would likely mean steady to lower prices at the farm.

"Steady to lower" characterizes the price outlook for 1964. Producers could help keep production in line with demand by holding down market weights next year. Choice steers at Detroit should be between $23 and $26 for the most of 1964. Feeder cattle prices will probably be somewhat lower this year than last to allow modest returns from cattle feeding in 1963-64.

Range conditions have been poor in the Southern Plains this summer. Further deterioration would release more feeders and breeding stock from this area. This would have more immediate effect on the feeder market than the fed cattle market. A wholesale liquidation of beef cows would affect the fed cattle market but we are less vulnerable to such a development than in the past. For one thing, imports of beef, which are mostly processed beef, would be reduced.

Jimmy Dean's Show Pleasant

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "Temple Houston," NBC's new horse opera, may provide the most interesting mystery of the television year. Not the series but the network thinking in substituting it at the eleventh hour for the Robert Taylor series with which it originally planned to open its Thursday night schedule.

The first episode Thursday night introduced a barrister in buckskin alleged to be Sam Houston's son. It looks as though NBC has acquired the offspring of "Gunsmoke" and "Perry Mason." The marriage has produced an hour-long hybrid combining the worst clichés of both.

Falls Short

Temple, played by Jeffrey Hunter, seems to be an ambulance chaser on horseback—at least he hunted up a couple of men suspected of murdering a marshal and nailed them as clients.

It was neither a good Western nor a suspenseful courtroom drama.

ABC's "Jimmy Dean Show" Thursday night proved to be a pleasant, relaxed variety hour, combining an informal country style with a sophisticated background.

Tonight, ABC serves up its completely changed "77 Sunset Strip," with Efrat Zimbalist Jr., the sole surviving private eye (7:30-8:30 Eastern Daylight Time). The premiere program is called "Five."

On CBS (9:30-11) there's Ingrid Bergman in a special adaptation of Ibsen's "Hedda Gabler," with Trevor Howard.

2 For Saturday

"Hootenanny," expanded to one hour, has its ABC debut on Saturday (7:30-8:30 p.m.), and will continue to concentrate on folk and country music stars. "The Jerry Lewis Show," live from Hollywood and expected to range from comedy to learned conversation, takes over the network channel from 9:30 to 11:30.

Another of CBS' "Roots of Freedom" specials will be seen on Sunday (6-7 p.m.) with King Paul and Queen Frederika of Greece showing the Parthenon. NBC's "Bill Dana Show," with Bill playing his Jose Jimenez character, moves into position at 7. CBS also has a musical special (8-9) marking the year's anniversary of New Appleton Xavier, the only team to beat Holy Name in the last two seasons, ran its consecutive victory string to 24 games last week with a 40-0 shutout over Stevens Point Pacelli. . . The Hawks had previously defeated Rhinelander 31-6.

Already cursed with a poor turnout and early injuries to his players, Coach George Guskic at Iron Mountain received another blow this week. . . Jim Lindstrom, star Mountaineer halfback, suffered a broken bone in his hand. . . Lindstrom had gained 340 yards in 56 carries in Iron Mountain's first three games and scored an 85 yard touchdown against Iron River last weekend.

In winning their first three starts this season Coach Rae Drake's Kingsford Flivvers have displayed a rugged defense to go with half-back Dick Berlinski's brilliant running game. . . The Flivvers have held Marquette, Stephenson and Norway to a total of 160 yards rushing and 88 passing.

Julius Kallman of Ensign, member of the Delta County Sportsmen's Club, placed second in Class C of the Upper Peninsula skeet championship shoot at Negaunee. . . Walter Daley of Negaunee captured the Upper Peninsula championship with two perfect rounds of 25 targets and a total of 97 out of 100. . . Rollee Boyum, former Escanaban now living in Traverse City, did not defend his crown.

Michigan State coaching brass is making no secret of the key role that Ron Rubick's knee will play in their football picture this fall. . . Before suffering an injury last fall as a junior, Rubick was headed for All-America stature, stealing the limelight from such highly publicized Spartan backs as George Saines, Dewey Lincoln and Sherman Lewis. . . In his first four games, none of which he started, Rubick outgained the entire backfields of Stanford, North Carolina, Michigan and Notre Dame. . . He had rambled for 371 yards in 53 carries, an average of seven yards every time he got his hands on the ball against some pretty respectable collegiate competition.

Grid Scribe Picks Packers Over Detroit Lions Sunday

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
The game that the Detroit Lions and Green Bay Packers have been waiting for since last Thanksgiving Day will be played Sunday at Milwaukee in the top pro football game of the weekend.
Commissioner Pete Rozelle's schedule calls for the defending National Football League champions to face the Chicago Bears, Detroit and Baltimore on the first three weeks of the season. Already beaten by the Bears, Coach Vince Lombardi needs no pep talk to whip up his Packers for their date with the Lions.
Detroit players were free with their comments after their 25-14 shocker over the Packers Thanksgiving Day.
Despite the defeat by the Bears, it is the feeling here that Green Bay will respond to the challenge and turn back Detroit in another grind it out effort.
Here's the way the weekend schedule looks from here: (All Sunday unless otherwise noted)

News 'N Notes On Pro Football

WHEN REDSKIN BOBBY MITCHELL scored on a 99-yard reception against Cleveland last Sunday rookie Browns' defensive back Larry Benz walked to the sideline and said to his coach, "You don't have to say anything. I learned a lesson for good. I've been told to watch for the pass in that situation. Now I know what you were talking about." . . . And after the game, Cleveland Coach Blanton Collier said of Benz: "I don't know what I would have done without him. His development has solidified our secondary." Benz, a free agent from Northwestern, has replaced the late Don Fleming in the Cleveland defensive backfield and was one of 25 rookies to start in National Football League openers. Including injured players, there are 99 rookies on NFL rosters.

"THOSE INTERCEPTIONS were particularly outstanding," said Coach George Wilson after his Detroit defensive backs had picked four Rams' passes in the Lions' 23-2 opening victory over Los Angeles. . . "Often," Wilson said, "when you get a lot of interceptions it is because of pressure on the passer, but the boys did it with great individual effort against the Rams. . . In the same vein, Los Angeles Coach Harland Sware paid tribute to the pass blocking of Jan Arnett and Dick Bass. . . "They usually get the credit for their running," Sware said, "but this time they really did a fine job protecting the passer." . . The Detroit interceptions were by Dick LeBeau, Gary Love and two by Night Train Lane, who ran his career total to 64, still 15 short of the league record of 79 held by retired Emlen Tunnell.

THE ANNUAL NFL Draft meeting will be held Monday, Dec. 2, after the close of the regular college football season. . . The site is the main ballroom of the Sheraton-Chicago Hotel. . . The meeting will start promptly at 9 a.m. and run straight through until the 14 NFL teams have drafted 280 players. . . Each team has 20 choices and drafts in inverse order of the standings after games of Sunday, Dec. 1.

DIVIDED OPINION: A team effort by the Chicago Bears beat the Green Bay Packers last week, but Bear players couldn't decide among themselves to whom the credit belonged. . . Said offensive back Johnny Morris: "You saw what our defense did. They played a whale of a game. They won it for us." . . Said defensive back Dave Whitsett: "No we didn't. The offense won it. You guys got that ball and stuffed it down their throats."

Kaline's Hot Bat Paces Tigers To Win Over Twins

DETROIT (AP)—Today is Charlie Dessen's 65th birthday and the Detroit manager was expected to have Al Kaline sitting beside him on the bench as the Tigers opened a three-game series with the Chicago White Sox.

Kaline batted in four runs Thursday as the Tigers defeated the Minnesota Twins 8-6 in a 13-inning maturation. Kaline socked two home runs, a triple and a single to raise his batting average to .311.

He said last week that he would bench himself for the rest of the season after he batted in 100 runs. The four he knocked in Thursday gave him 100, and it is assumed he'll take the chance to rest his injured knee.

Dessen, who said he would go along with the right fielder's decision, was expected to start rookie Willie Horton in Kaline's place today.

Phil Regan, the fifth Tiger pitcher, won Thursday's slugfest which saw five other homers hit and 42 players put into service.

Rocky Colavito and Gus Triandopoulos, who were in the lineup, homered for Detroit, while Minnesota got homers from Don Minchener, Paul Ratliff and Bernie Allen.

All of the Twins' homers came off starter Jim Bunning, who pitched the first seven innings. Kaline's first homer was followed by Colavito's in the fifth and gave the Tigers a 4-2 lead. Allen's two-run blast tied the score in the seventh, and the Twins went ahead in the eighth on a walk, an error by Terry Fox and Harmon Killebrew's single.

Singles by Billy Bruton and Dick McAuliffe, and Kaline's infield out, knotted the score again in the ninth.

Kaline's leadoff homer in the 11th gave the Tigers the lead again, but Zoilo Versalles got to Hank Aguirre for a two-out single in the bottom of the inning, scoring Bob Allison and tying the score again.

The Tigers wrapped it up in the 13th when Kaline's triple scored McAuliffe and Kaline came in on Bubba Phillips' sacrifice and an error.

The victory gave Regan a 14-8 record. Jerry Arrigo took the loss, his second in three decisions.

Cross Country Run Saturday

Coach Henry Wylie's Escanaba cross country team will meet Newberry in a practice run Saturday at 2 prior to the Eskymo-Newberry football game here.

Eskymo Jayvee String Snapped

The Escanaba Eskymo junior varsity football team was defeated 19-6 at Marinette Thursday.

The setback snapped a 21 game undefeated string for Coach Frank Miketina's gridders.

Tech To Host Tough Ferris

HOUGHTON—Ferris State College will furnish the opposition for Michigan Tech's home opener Saturday night, Sept. 21. While Michigan Tech's Huskies were dropping a 13-6 road opener to Superior State, the Ferris Bulldogs chalked up an 18-6 road win over the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee.

Head coach Sam Ketchman has 12 returning lettermen and a host of newcomers and transfers to bolster his winged-T attack.

Tech coach Bill Lucier will give heavy emphasis to his Tech-flex offense this week while not neglecting his defensive unit which looked tremendous in the second half against Superior.

Tech's defense is spearheaded by defensive tackle Roger Hettiga. His cohorts in destruction are Ken Ulz, Chuck Luchesi, Carl Pirmer, Ken Naples, Dennis Burns, Willie Griffin, and co-captain Gene Belmore.

Offensively the Huskies will have slinging "Red" Abata in the quarterback spot. "Red" passes, punts, and runs the ball and is capable of keeping the defenses honest. His supporting cast in the backfield will likely have Ron Maticic at fullback with Dave Thompson and Doug King at the halves.

The front line will include Hettiga, Naples, Belmore, Burns, Don Krejcarek, Dennis Euers, and Dan Van Abel.

Michigan College Teams Face Tough Football Weekend

By The Associated Press
Michigan college football pride has been taking a dreadful shelling and it looks like more embarrassment is in store this weekend.

Twelve games are on the state docket for the second Saturday of the 1963 season. Ten of them pit Michigan teams against teams from surrounding states.

The trend has been for Michigan teams to take a whumping in interstate play.

Last week nine Michigan clubs opened the season against out-of-state foes. The Michigan teams could win only two games and lost seven. Last year, in 89 games with teams from other states, Michigan clubs won 32, lost 53 and tied 4.

Five state teams open their seasons Saturday. Western Michigan ventures into the Big Ten against 1962 champion Wisconsin at Madison and the Broncos figure to lose by a lopsided score. Detroit opens at Bowling Green of Ohio and the Titans also are underdogs.

Eastern Michigan, long a doormat, plays its inaugural at Ball State of Indiana, a team with a winning record last year and plenty of veterans back this year.

Wheaton of Illinois, annually a small-college power, visits Albion for the Britons' opener. Adrian opens at home against Defiance of Ohio.

Hillsdale, probably the strongest small-college team in the state and one of last week's two winners, plays Fairmont State of West Virginia in a night game at Flint.

Ferris State was the other victorious team last weekend. This week the Bulldogs travel to Michigan Tech, a loser a week ago.

In other games, Parsons of Iowa is at Northern Michigan, Alma is at Manchester of Indiana. Hope is at Findlay of Ohio, Augustana of Illinois is at Olivet and Grand Rapids JC is at Northwood.

Football Dreams May Be Shattered In First Weekend

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
The grand old custom of opening with a breather has long since been discarded, with the result that a number of college football teams may have their seasons wrecked this weekend before autumn even dawns officially.

The first full week of the season has some tough scraps scheduled, three of them tonight.

Then on Saturday, nine of the 11 teams in The AP's pre-season

Frosty Changes Starting Lineup

MARQUETTE—Four changes, including three in the backfield, will be made in the Northern Michigan University starting lineup when the Wildcats host a strong Parsons College team here Saturday at 1:30 p. m.

Coach F. L. (Frosty) Ferzacca indicated that quarterback Terry Nyquist, halfbacks Dennis Gorsline and Dave Fleet, and guard Jim Decker will start against Parsons.

The backfield changes, anticipated after Northern's 12-11 defeat at the hands of the State College of Iowa, are expected to give the Wildcats offense more speed, while the addition of 210-pound Decker will boost the weight of the line.

Nyquist, a former Marquette Gravieret grid ace who shared signal-calling duties with Stan Ferris in NMU's season opener, demonstrated his passing ability in the SCI contest as he unleashed one long aerial after another and completed 4 out of 13 passes for 96 yards, including a 49-yard toss to end Bill Rademacher. Many of his passes, however, were either dropped or within finger-tip reach of the intended receiver.

Gorsline, a 6-1, 195-pound sophomore from Saginaw, scored the Wildcats lone touchdown Saturday on a three-yard run and picked up 13 yards in 3 carries.

A native of Sarnia, Ontario, Canada, the 5-9, 160-pound Fleet is considered one of the fastest and quickest backs to don a Wildcat uniform in several seasons.

Decker, a left linebacker on defense, saw considerable action as a freshman last season.

The backfield changes leave only fullback Don Bangert as a hold-over from last Saturday's contest. Bangert, a quick, power-runner, gained 77 yards in 19 carries against a stalwart Iowa line to lead both clubs in rushing.

Aaron Takes Aim At Triple Crown In Stretch Drive

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Hammerin' Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves has a solid shot at becoming only the 10th player to wear baseball's triple crown of batting, homers and RBI and the first in the National League in more than a quarter of century.

The right-handed hitter, previously overshadowed by the tight pennant struggle, now has the stage and spotlight to himself in a bid to grab the coveted and elusive major league honor.

While Aaron, 29, continues his bid at Chicago today, the Los Angeles Dodgers open a nine-game home stand against Pittsburgh, hoping to wrap up the pennant race quickly after sweeping the vital three-game series with second-place St. Louis.

The Cardinals, four games behind with only seven to play, will be trying to keep their hopes alive at Cincinnati. Any combination of five Los Angeles victories and/or St. Louis defeats will give the Dodgers their first pennant since 1959.

Aaron, trying to become the first triple crown winner in the National League since Joe Medwick of St. Louis in 1937, leads the league with 42 homers and 127 runs batted in, but must come out on top in a six-man struggle for the batting title.

Aaron, of course, has always figured he has the advantage. As he explains it:

"The pitcher has only got a ball. I've got a bat. So the percentage in the weapons is in favor of me."

The schedule isn't. Aaron, currently hitting .319, has just eight games remaining. Dick Groat of St. Louis is leading with a .323 mark. Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh, San Francisco's Orlando Cepeda and Tommy Davis of Los Angeles are tied at .321 and Cincinnati's Vada Pinson is at .319.

Davis is the defending champion off a .346 average in 1962. Clemente won with .351 in 1961 and Groat won with .325 in 1960. Aaron, who has won all three titles making up the triple crown at different times during his 10-year career, hit a league-leading .355 in 1959.

Al Kaline became the second American League to hit the 100-RBI mark this season as he drove in four runs Thursday with two homers, a triple and a single in Detroit's 8-6, 13-inning victory over Minnesota.

In the only other game scheduled in either league, Bo Belinsky pitched a five-hitter in the Los Angeles Angels' 7-2 triumph over Baltimore.

Rollie Dotsch, former Escanaba High School head football coach, is shown on the gridiron at the University of Missouri, Columbia, Mo., as the Tigers prepare for their 1963 season opener Saturday against Northwestern. Dotsch, former Michigan State lineman and the son of former Senator and Mrs. James Dotsch of Garden, is serving for the second season as interior line coach for head coach Don Devine. Dotsch coached at Northern Michigan and Colorado before joining the Missouri staff.

Wolverines Look Ragged In Drill

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Michigan coach Bump Elliott sent his Wolverines through another game-type scrimmage Thursday afternoon and admitted they "can't wait much longer" to get into shape for the opener with Southern Methodist a week from Saturday.

Bob Chandler and Tom Prichard quarterbacked the first and second string Blues to a 14-10 victory over the Whites in a ragged game that prompted Elliott to comment, "we'll be doing a lot more hitting."

Bob Timberlake and Frosty Evashevski, Elliott's top signal callers, were on the sidelines. Timberlake has a bruise on his arm, and Evashevski is nursing an ankle injury.

The Whites were aided by a couple of regulars who had missed a few practices because of assorted ills, and hadn't worked into shape to win a place on the first two teams. This, Elliott said, gave the squads better balance.

John Houtman spearheaded the Whites' line as it outmuscled the Blues throughout most of the game. He looked ready to move up a couple of notches after fighting off a virus.

The Whites took a 3-0 lead on Bill Dodd's 34-yard field goal in the second period. Dodd did most of the placekicking for both teams. The Blues marched 65 yards and scored early in the second quarter when Prichard went in from the three.

Mel Anthony powered in from five yards out with a little less than two minutes to go in the half for what proved to be the last Blue score.

Rick Bay scored from the one for the Whites with two seconds to go in the scrimmage to cap a 56-yard drive.

BRVES BACK TO BOSTON?
BOSTON (AP)—Boston wants the Braves back.

Mayor John F. Collins Thursday wrote to Braves President John McHale suggesting the National League baseball team which moved to Milwaukee from Boston 10 years ago, come home.

Rollie Dotsch, former Escanaba High School head football coach, is shown on the gridiron at the University of Missouri, Columbia, Mo., as the Tigers prepare for their 1963 season opener Saturday against Northwestern. Dotsch, former Michigan State lineman and the son of former Senator and Mrs. James Dotsch of Garden, is serving for the second season as interior line coach for head coach Don Devine. Dotsch coached at Northern Michigan and Colorado before joining the Missouri staff.

St. Paul Sisters Arrive To Staff Bishop Noa Home

By PEGGY MUNSON

After eight months of waiting for visas, three charming Sisters of St. Paul de Chartres left their beloved France to come to America and staff the new Bishop Noa Home for Senior Citizens. Sister Bernadine, Sister Ignatius and Sister Marie Patricia are the first in their order to come to the United States.

Contrary to what this reporter expected, I wasn't greeted with a "Parlez vous francais?" but rather, "Sure, and it's wonderful to be here!" The trio has spent their entire religious life in France, but it didn't squelch the cheerful Irish brogue of their native Ireland.

Although they sometimes get lonesome for Europe, they have found the American people warm and friendly. They were surprised to discover Escanaba to be such a small community. Why on Sunday morning there wasn't a trace of people, it was so quiet, I wondered where they all had gone! one said.

ing boys had in the past visited at the camp on the shore.

The message was in the sand near the front of the cottage and Chief Finnman is of the opinion it is the work of a prankster and was not made by the boys. An investigation was made, however, as it has in every instance where reports have been received. The whole area was searched thoroughly earlier this week.

Re-Check Under Way

State Police Detectives Walter Barkell and William Simmons of Marquette are in Escanaba today assisting local officers in the investigation. Their arrival is no way particularly significant and is not related to any new information, police said.

Chief Finnman was emphatic on one point:

"Contrary to rumors, I feel that the parents of the missing boys have been fully cooperative and have not withheld any information from the authorities," he said.

Officers continued a search that has now become one of intensive examination of areas and buildings that have been searched before. An inspection of what has previously been inspected, closer examination of every possible location where the boys might be found.

Sheriff Cully Johnson today reported that his department was conducting organization of small squads that were busy rechecking areas previously searched.

He said that the department's boat was also continuing thorough search of the harbor area and skindiving of the basin itself.

5 House Seats For U. P. Urged

LANSING (AP) — Four specific legislative reapportionment plans — all drawn by one Republican — were presented Thursday to the commission responsible for remapping House and Senate seats in time for the November, 1964, election.

William Hanna, Republican commissioner from Muskegon, contended his proposals illustrate that if one predominant reapportionment factor dominates any plan, each party would be both helped and hurt by the resulting districts.

Hanna's proposals—two for the House, two for the Senate—did not define boundaries for seats within multi-district counties such as Wayne, Oakland and Macomb.

The Senate districts, Hanna said, were drawn to show differences if the northern Lower Peninsula is or is not joined with the Upper Peninsula in forming districts.

One Senate plan combined Chippewa and Mackinac counties, in the U.P., with Presque Isle, Cheboygan, Emmet and Charlevoix counties at the top of the lower, on the assumption that the areas were "contiguous" because they are joined by the Mackinac Bridge.

House seats in the Upper Peninsula would be reduced from seven to five, under one plan, and to four and a fraction under the second.

Wayne County was awarded 37 House seats, Macomb got 6, Genesee and Kent 5, Ingham and Saginaw 3, under both House plans.

Oakland would have either 9 or 10 and Monroe would have either seven-tenths or nine-tenths of one per cent of the total population was selected as the guide.

LANSING (AP) —The Legislative Apportionment Commission has set Oct. 25 as a "target date" for the submission of specific plans and recommendations for remapping House and Senate districts.

The commission, which is charged with drawing new legislative districts in accordance with the State Constitution, said it hoped all interested persons would submit plans by the October date.

After debating on whether to hold extensive public hearings before or after settling on specific apportionment plans themselves, the commissioners agreed on this hearing outline:

Pairs of commissioners, one each from the Democratic and Republican parties in four basic areas of the state, may meet and discuss plans for their areas at any time before Dec. 1.

As shortly after Dec. 1 as possible, the whole commission will tour the state, holding hearings according to a still-to-be-prepared schedule.

By Dec. 1 the commission hopes to have a plan, or alternative published so that specific points may be discussed at the hearings around the state.

K Worse Than Mao: Mrs. Ngo

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) —Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu, the politically powerful first lady of South Viet Nam, declared today Soviet Premier Khrushchev is more dangerous than Mao Tse-tung, the Red Chinese boss.

"We are for coexistence," she said in an interview at the close of a nine-day visit to Belgrade, "because of the geographical and strategic position of our country. But for genuine coexistence."

"The Khrushchev type of coexistence is not genuine. It is only a form of subversion."

Elaborating the sisters-in-law of President Ngo Dinh Diem said: "Khrushchev wants world domination just like Mao Tse-tung. But, while Mao is loud, beating the drums, Khrushchev pursues his aims quietly."

"The means of Khrushchev might succeed much easier than those of Mao."

"The violent tactics of Mao have resulted in the revival of Indian nationalism and in other parts of the world the reaction will be similar."

"Khrushchev looks to us more dangerous. His tactics of peaceful coexistence, which covers subversion, are more dangerous than the outspoken Mao."

"Mao is not more holy than Khrushchev, but Khrushchev is cleverer and therefore more dangerous."

Faculty Council To Help Select EMU President

LANSING (AP) — The State Board of Education intends to name a new president of Eastern Michigan University by Feb. 1.

The target date for selection of a successor to dismissed President Eugene Elliott was set by the board at a meeting Thursday with an EMU faculty group.

As described by the three-man faculty group, the new president would be a man with the talents of able administrator and who is experienced in teaching, sympathetic to research and active in public affairs.

Lynn M. Bartlett, superintendent of public instruction and member of the state board, added that the new appointee also should be able to work with the legislature since he will have "great responsibility" in acquiring EMU appropriations.

Elliott was fired June 12 in the wake of a controversial study which found the Ypsilanti school plagued with internal administrative problems and low morale.

The firing came after the 67-year-old Elliott refused to retire voluntarily. He will continue to serve in the post until June 30, 1964.

The EMU Faculty Council, striving to raise its stature and gain a larger voice in university affairs, won from the board an agreement that it would be able to participate in the selection of a new president.

Vatican Council Meeting Sunday

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A solemn religious ceremony, minus the lavish outdoor procession of a year ago, will re-open the Vatican Ecumenical Council Sept. 29, ceremonial officials announced today.

Save Downtown Area, Kreiger Warns Escanaba

Elmer Kreiger, Milwaukee, planning consultant to Escanaba, last night told the City Council he believes that "as a general thing you should build up your downtown before you permit building up outside the business area."

Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe said the further development of the city's downtown business district can be accomplished "with the cooperation of the downtown retail people."

Kreiger's recommendations were made in a discussion session last night at a meeting of the City Council attended by representatives of the Planning Commissions of Escanaba and Gladstone, and the Gladstone City Commission.

With Dale Vinette, chairman of the Escanaba Planning Commission, and others involved in zoning and planning in Escanaba, Kreiger had for two days studied local planning progress and trends.

Need Cooperation

"You have few if any transportation problems in Escanaba," Kreiger told the Council. "I would say you have none compared to many other cities. Your streets are nice and wide. Up to this time I find no need for establishing one-way traffic on any of the streets."

Off-street parking is plentiful, he said.

"But the parking facilities might be better integrated and a plan of downtown improvement undertaken with the cooperation of city adequate inspection and enforcement," and a freer East-West flow of information and people.

"Best Generation"

In discussing an expanded role for the United Nations Kennedy said:

"We have the power to make this the best generation of mankind in the history of the world—or to make it the last."

He advanced these specified proposals for broadening the United Nations' functions: The Creation of a world center for health communications to warn of epidemics and possibly harmful drugs, and report new experiments and discoveries.

Regional centers for medical research and the training of scientists and doctors from the emerging nations.

A global satellite system to provide communications and weather information.

A worldwide conservation program, and a similar effort to promote farm productivity and food distribution to "give every hungry child the food he needs."

Delegates had filed into the assembly hall hopeful that Kennedy's speech would ease East-West tensions further, following the Gromyko talk, generally hailed as moderate and worthy of careful study.

Many hoped the relaxed atmosphere would set the scene for fruitful talks next week when Gromyko confers with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home. Gromyko also will meet with the President in Washington.

Talks Welcomed

Most Western and neutralist delegates described Gromyko's speech Thursday as conciliatory and encouraging, but there were some reservations.

Gromyko proposed an 18-nation summit meeting on disarmament before next June 30 and offered Moscow as a site. The 17 nations which have debated disarmament long and fruitlessly at Geneva, plus France, which boycotted the Geneva conference, would be represented at the summit meeting.

Gromyko also proposed that the Soviet Union and the United States be allowed to retain some nuclear weapons until the final stage of complete disarmament. He threw out this idea, he said, to overcome Western objections to earlier Soviet proposals that would have stripped all powers of nuclear weapons before the final step in disarmament. That would leave the West at the mercy of superior Soviet bloc manpower.

Another Gromyko proposal called for a U.S.-Soviet agreement to prohibit orbiting nuclear weapons in space.

Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. chief delegate told newsmen, "Mr. Gromyko's emphasis on further steps to reduce tensions, especially in disarmament, was very welcome to the United States."

He added: "The tone of his speech was more conciliatory and increases my hope that this General Assembly will be less 'cold war' and make more real progress toward the removal of the great threats to peace."

Britain's chief delegate, Sir Patrick Dean, said "the two new proposals on disarmament will be studied very carefully by the British government."

officials and business people," Kreiger advised.

Escanaba's zoning ordinance establishing land use areas provides the necessary control to keep business from drifting from the downtown area, Kreiger pointed out.

Kreiger has long been familiar with Escanaba and its zoning problems. He was consulted back in the 1930's in the preparation of plans for the development of Ludington Park; 15 years ago he returned to assist in the preparation of the city's master plan; now he was back for a critical review of Escanaba's outlook and its planning.

School And Traffic

Kreiger praised Vinette and the Planning Commission, the Appeal Board, the city administration and department heads who have been effective in using and holding to its master plan.

One of his recommendations was that some type of traffic control be established on S. 23rd St. in the vicinity of the new Escanaba Area Public High School. Perhaps a manual stop system would be satisfactory, but since M-35 is a state highway the state highway department would have to be consulted, he advised.

Alleys are practically a thing of the past in planning cities, Kreiger said. Here, however, they are used to locate utilities and to collect garbage and the local people should decide the alley question.

The suggestion was made by Kreiger that a special category be included in zoning to permit the establishing of professional offices (dental and medical clinics) in residential zones.

Capital Program

In the city's downtown district the rear-yard requirement that buildings be set back 25 feet from the alley was considered unnecessarily generous by Kreiger. A 10-foot set-back would be sufficient to meet trucking and loading needs.

Kreiger strongly recommended that the City Council set up a capital improvements committee program composed of the city manager, who would serve as chairman, and composed of others in city administration. The committee would annually present a capital improvements program to the Planning Commission and the Council in advance of the budget session.

He also suggested strengthening the planning function by the employment of technical help, whether from a private firm or with federal help. He favored the first, he said, because he believes strongly in home rule.

Give Jail Site

The City Council authorized the gift to Delta County of a filled land area near N. 23rd St. as a site for a new county jail and sheriff's residence. The area is made land which the city obtained from the state.

Bids for the purchase of a garbage truck and fire hose were opened and referred to department heads with authority to accept the low bid meeting specifications. Transfer of a license at Harry's Bar, 123 N. 10th St. from Marshall and Della Perrin to Joseph A. Lauer, Sturgis, Mich., was approved, with consent of the police.

Permission was granted St. Joseph's Church to break the curb on 1st Ave. S. for a parking lot entrance; election machinery was established in the city for the Sept. 30 jail financing proposal; and there was discussion of an amendment to the trailer ordinance.

Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe of Escanaba and Mayor Frank Stupak of Gladstone spoke in favor of the proposal to levy 2 mills for one year to raise matching funds for the jail construction project. The federal grant for the project will be $177,000, they pointed out.

The body of Mrs. Dee Ann Meacham Shangle, above, Pentagon stenographer, was found in a half-filled bathtub in her Arlington, Va., apartment Wednesday. The coroner said she had been beaten, knifed and choked. She was a divorced mother of two and a native of Yost, Utah. (AP Wirephoto)
